Title Protection for Social Workers

Assembly Bill 445, introduced February 14, 2003, would require that, on or after January 1, 2004, only those individuals who possess a degree from an approved school of social work, or from an institution that is in candidacy status as determined by the Council on Social Work Education, may use the designation “social worker.” The bill would also specify that a graduate of a school in candidacy status as determined by the Council on Social Work Education may not use the designation “social worker” if the school fails to achieve accreditation. The bill would also specify that it shall not be construed to apply to an individual who is classified by his or her employer as a “social worker” if the individual holds this designation prior to January 1, 2004, and is continuously classified as a “social worker” subsequent to that date, or to an individual who is a graduate of a foreign school of social work.

Update on Clinical Vignette Items in the Written Examination

In addition to standard multiple-choice items, clinical vignette items are now included in the Marriage and Family Therapist written examination. The Licensed Clinical Social Worker written examination will include clinical vignette items beginning June 1, 2003.

The main differences between the clinical vignette items and standard multiple-choice items are as follows:

- The clinical vignette items may contain a series of questions related to the same vignette;
- The four possible answers (a, b, c, & d) are longer and more complex, listing a sequence of actions or describing a process of applying knowledge; and,
- Due to limitations of the computer screen size, the candidate will view the vignette separately from the possible answers.

The candidate will be provided with a tutorial as well as note-taking paper and the opportunity to ask for assistance if needed before the time on the examination begins.

The length of time needed to respond to clinical vignette items was tested during examination development workshops. The results indicated the need to reduce the total number of items in both examinations by 10 to accommodate the inclusion of clinical vignette items. Both the LCSW and MFT examinations now total 190 items each rather than 200. Candidates are advised to answer all questions on the examination.

For questions regarding the clinical vignette items, contact Christy Berger at (916) 445-4933 ext. 1026.
Pending Legislation

Senate Bill 250 (Battin) – This bill would specify that a mandated reporter who fails to report a known or reasonably suspected instance of unlawful sexual intercourse with a minor or who actively discourages others from reporting the violation would be punishable by a jail term and/or a fine up to $2000.

Senate Bill 598 (Machado) This bill would revise and further limit the circumstances under which a provider of health care, health care service plan, or contractor may release medical information that relates to a patient’s participation in outpatient treatment with a psychotherapist and would revise the definition of psychotherapist in the Civil Code by referencing the definition of psychotherapist in Section 1010 of the Evidence Code.

Senate Bill 816 (Perata) – This bill would revise the settings in which a Trainee or Intern may gain qualifying experience toward licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist.

Senate Bill 1077 (Business and Professions Committee) - This bill would make several amendments to the sections of law that relate to Marriage and Family Therapy and Licensed Clinical Social Work by specifying the number of continuing education hours required for reactivation from inactive to active status within a renewal period, delete the specific settings in which Trainees, Interns, and Associate Clinical Social Workers gain experience and further elaborate on the experience to be gained, clarify setting responsibilities, allow associates to gain additional hours of experience under a licensed mental health professional acceptable to the Board, specify a required amount of supervision that associates must gain under a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, restructure the experience sections of law, and specify that the spousal and partner abuse continuing education shall be a seven hour course.

Regulation Update

Unprofessional Conduct: This proposal will amend Sections 1845, 1858, and 1881 of Articles 4, 5, and 6, Division 18 of Title 16, to add failure to report elder and adult dependent abuse as a violation which would constitute unprofessional conduct and to correct grammatical errors. The Notice, Proposed Language, and Initial Statement of Reasons are available on the Board’s website in an adobe acrobat format.

Approved Regulations

Child Abuse Assessment Training Requirements: Effective April 13, 2003, Section 1807.2 of Article 1, Title 16 of Division 18, of the California Code of Regulations was amended to add continuing education providers and licensed health facilities to the entities that can offer this required training to pre licensed individuals. It also corrects an incorrect reference to the Education Code regarding the approving authority of the Bureau for Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education.

Definitions: Effective February 1, 2003, Section 1887 of Article 8, Division 18 of Title 16, of the California Code of Regulations was amended to add failure to report elder and adult dependent abuse as a violation which would constitute unprofessional conduct and to correct grammatical errors. The Notice, Proposed Language, and Initial Statement of Reasons are available on the Board’s website in an adobe acrobat format.

Potential Renewal Assessment

Assembly Bill 938 introduced February 20, 2003, would require the Board to charge an unspecified assessment to MFT and LCSW license renewals in order to fund the Mental Health Practitioner Education Fund. This fund would provide scholarships and loans to licensed mental health professionals who agree to serve in specific areas that are multiculturally and linguistically diverse.
HIPAA Update

What is HIPAA?
The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) was signed on August 21, 1996. It is intended to expand health coverage by improving the portability and continuity of health insurance coverage in both group and individual markets. It is also designed to combat waste in health service delivery, promote the use of medical savings accounts, improve access to long-term care services and coverage, and simplify the administration of health insurance.

Within this context, HIPAA includes a provision called “Administrative Simplification”, which is intended to improve the efficiency of a health care system by requiring the development of standards to transmit certain health information. It also establishes important requirements for the handling of certain health care information to assure the privacy and security of patient health care data. HIPAA also includes fiscal sanctions, and, in some cases, even criminal sanctions for non-compliance.

Privacy Rule
Establishes requirements for the handling of certain health care information to ensure the privacy of patient health care data. It also requires covered entities to train all of its workforce no later than April 14, 2003 on the policies and procedures with respect to protected health information, as necessary and appropriate for members of the workforce to carry out their functions within the covered entity. Privacy also requires that consumers be provided access to their health records, an opportunity to amends these records, and an opportunity to file a complaint if they are not satisfied with these options.

Transaction and Code Sets Rule
Practices that transmit claims electronically need to modify current systems, purchase practice management software or utilize a healthcare clearinghouse that meets HIPAA requirements. Compliance required by October 16, 2003 with “testing” to begin by April 16, 2003.

Security Rule
Establishes standards to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of individual health information. The Security Rule will provide a standard level of protection in an environment where health information pertaining to an individual is housed electronically and/or is transmitted over telecommunications systems/networks.

Who must comply?
• Healthcare providers who electronically transmit patient information for billing purposes or related purposes such as obtaining authorizations must comply.
• Health plans including group health plans, health insurance issuers, Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs), Medicare, Medicaid, etc.
• Public agencies (State and county departments) are not exempt from these rules if they meet the HIPAA criteria as covered entities; however there are limited exemptions. Covered entities include health providers, health plans, and clearinghouses.
• Non-covered or exempt entities may have interactions with entities that are covered, requiring some degree of HIPAA implementation on their part.

Generally, HIPAA preempts state law. However, in the privacy area, any state law that is more stringent than HIPAA will prevail. Thus all health care providers should have a clear understanding of state privacy laws that apply to them. CalOHI has performed preemption analyses of the major privacy state laws. These can be found under the “Legal Issues” link on their website.

Where can I find more information?
Licensing Boards do not administer the provisions of HIPAA. Therefore, Board staff is not able to provide guidance regarding HIPAA compliance. If you have questions you may consider the following HIPAA resources:

• U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) website at www.aspe.hhs.gov/admnsimp/

CE Update and New Requirements
(For MFT’s and LCSW’s)

- Effective February 1, 2003, you may obtain all of your required continuing education hours through interactive, or electronic means. This includes online, teleconferencing, and videotape viewing.

- Only one-third of the required CE hours can be earned through self-study. A self-study course is a course offered by an approved provider that is performed at your residence, office, or other private location, including, but not limited to, listening to audiotapes or participating in self-assessment testing (open-book tests that you complete and submit to the provider for grading).

Renewal Tidbits!

- Remember, the processing time for a license or registration renewal that has been completed properly (correct fee and required documentation) is four to six weeks.

- Please write legibly on your renewal application and be careful not to deface the document. A defaced renewal application may require special handling which will delay the renewal from being processed timely.

- Retired Status - The Board does not have a retired status. At this time the only options are to renew the license/registration, place it on an inactive status or allow it to expire.

- Cancelled status - There is no provision in the law that allows the board to cancel a registration or license upon request. At this time the only options are to renew the license or registration or allow it to expire.

- Public Information - The fact that you are/were licensed or registered with the Board is a matter of public record. This information, along with the address of record and the status of the license or registration is available indefinitely on our website under “Verify & Search Licenses.” However once an ASW or IMF registration is cancelled, the address of record is no longer displayed.

- Spousal or Partner Abuse CE Requirement
  Effective January 1, 2004, you will be required to complete a one-time course in spousal or partner abuse assessment, detection, and intervention strategies including community resources, cultural factors, and same gender abuse dynamics. The Board is in the process of determining the hours required for this course. If you have taken a Spousal or Partner Abuse course in the past, or if you have equivalent teaching or practice experience, you may have met this requirement.

- Aging and Long-Term Care CE Requirement
  If you began graduate study prior to January 1, 2004 and are renewing for the first time in 2005 you must complete a 3-hour continuing education course in aging and long-term care. The course could include, but is not limited to, the biological, social, and psychological aspects of aging. If you have taken an Aging and Long Term Care course in the past, or if you have equivalent teaching or practice experience, you may have met this requirement.

- Law and Ethics Course Requirement
  For license renewals on and after January 1, 2004, you must have completed a minimum of six hours of CE in the subject of law and ethics for this renewal and each subsequent renewal. The six mandatory hours will count towards your CE requirement.
Completing the Renewal Criminal Conviction Disclosure Section

As a requirement for renewal, licensees and registrants must disclose all misdemeanors, felonies, and any disciplinary action taken by any regulatory or licensing board in this or any other state since their last renewal. Convictions dismissed under Penal Code Section 1203.4 must also be disclosed. For clarification on Penal Code Section 1203.4 see: http://www.dmv.ca.gov/pubs/vctop/appndx/a/penalco/penco1203_4.htm.

The criminal conviction disclosure requirement is located on part 3 of the renewal application. To ensure you complete this section correctly and to avoid your renewal being processed late, you must date and sign this section. You must also mark either the “yes” or “no” box. If this statement applies to you, mark the “yes” box. If it does not, mark the “no” box.

You are encouraged to send your completed renewal application as soon as possible as it takes four to six weeks to process a renewal that has been completed properly.

If the declaration on the renewal application is not completed properly, it will require special handling, and will delay the processing of your renewal, which involves another conviction declaration being sent to you for completion.

The renewal application along with all of the required information and fee must be postmarked on or before the expiration date. If any portion is incomplete it will not be renewed until all required information is completed and received. In addition the license or registration will expire and all practice rights will cease until it is properly renewed.

Sample License / Registration Renewal

You must Mark Yes or No

MFTs and LCSWs:
Mark box “A” if you have completed your CE requirement.
Mark box “B” if you have not completed your CE or wish to renew inactive.

All licensees and registrants: You must mark the Yes or No box.
Mark the “Yes” box if you have had a conviction since your last renewal.
Mark the “No” box if you have not had a conviction since your last renewal.

You must sign and date the renewal document. Failure to complete any portion will prevent your renewal from being processed.

Re-Examinees
Pursuant to Business and Professions Code sections 4984.7(h) and 4996.4 candidates may not apply to retake the oral examination until notification of failure is received. Examination Program Updates

The occupational analysis of Marriage and Family Therapists is complete! The Board plans to implement a written examination based on the updated outline on July 1, 2003. A revised oral examination will be implemented in September 2003.

The new MFT written examination outline will be available soon on the Board’s website under the “Examination” section and will also be included in the written examination handbooks.

The new MFT oral examination handbook is in the process of being created and will be available on the website and upon request by mail in June 2003. It will also be mailed with all notices of admission for the September 2003 cycle in August 2003.

The occupational analysis of Licensed Educational Psychologists is also complete! Licensees returned completed questionnaires in early April, and the examination outline is being revised based on the results. The Board expects to implement a written examination based on the updated outline in spring 2004.

An occupational analysis of Licensed Clinical Social Workers is underway. The Board expects to mail questionnaires to licensees in fall 2003, and plans to implement a written examination based on the updated outline in late 2004.

The Board would like to thank the licensees who participated in the occupational analysis process, including those who returned completed questionnaires to the Board.

Please contact Christy Berger at (916) 445-4933 ext. 1026 or Sandra Wright at ext. 1242 if you have any questions or would like more information.

What is an occupational analysis?
An occupational analysis is a method for identifying the tasks performed in a profession or on a job and the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to perform that job. The Department of Consumer Affairs’ Examination Validation Policy requires an occupational analysis be performed every 3 to 7 years. The occupational analysis begins with interviews of licensees to gather information about the tasks performed in practice and the knowledge required to perform those tasks. That information is reviewed and refined during workshops with licensees, then incorporated into a questionnaire. The questionnaire asks licensees to rate the importance of (for example) each task and knowledge area associated with their own practice.

What happens after an occupational analysis is completed?
The results of an occupational analysis form the basis of a licensing examination, demonstrating job-relatedness. An occupational analysis can identify changes needed to the examination program. Types of changes may include new content areas, new questions, or different weights for content areas. For LCSW and MFT, the occupational analysis results also provide information that can assist with evaluating the need for an oral examination requirement. Candidates will be provided with ample notice of any changes to be implemented.

Separating Myth From Reality - Examination Preparation Courses

It has come to the Board’s attention that some examination preparation courses provide information to candidates that may be misleading and inappropriate. This information came to the Board directly from candidates who participated in such courses.

The Board recently notified several examination preparation course providers that advising candidates in such a manner may be disadvantaging candidates as well as interfering with a state licensing examination. This could lead to a violation of Section 123 of the Business and Professions Code, which states, “It is a misdemeanor for any person to engage in any conduct which subverts or attempts to subvert any licensing examination or the administration of an examination…”

The Board strongly recommends that candidates study from the examination handbooks published by the Board. Candidates are encouraged to use their clinical education, experience and judgment as a basis for responding to items in the written and oral examinations.

Should you decide to study from examination preparation course materials or workshops, it is important to become an informed consumer prior to purchase. Also, consider the impact that incorrect information could have on examination performance. And, further research any written material or presentations that seem questionable or that is in conflict with Board-provided information.

The Board does not supply examination preparation providers with confidential examination material. Additionally, it is unlawful for candidates to provide information regarding examination content to anyone. Examination preparation providers are regulated by the Bureau for Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education.

If you feel you have been given misinformation or have been asked to violate the confidentiality agreement and wish to voice your concern to the Board, you may call (916) 445-4933 ext. 1234, or write to the Board to the attention of the examination unit.

Requests for additional time must be made by submitting a letter to the Board which includes the following information:

1) The applicant’s BBS file number or social security number;
2) A statement that English is not the primary language;
3) The date that immigration to the United States first took place;
4) Proof of the first immigration date to the United States consisting of either a copy of the immigration papers, alien card, or passport; and,
5) If immigration took place more than ten years prior to the date of submission of the application for licensure, explain any extenuating circumstances. One example would be proof of prior accommodations in testing.

Contact the Board office to have the forms mailed, or download the package at www.bbs.ca.gov/pdf/specaccom.pdf. Examination sites are physically accessible to individuals with disabilities.

ENGLISH IS APPLICANT’S SECOND LANGUAGE - Applicants whose primary language is not English, and who can show proof of immigration to the United States ten or less years prior to the date of submission of the application for licensure, qualify for time and one half (50% extra time) to complete the examinations.

A request for additional time must be made by submitting a letter to the Board which includes the following information:
